

PRISON ISLAND TOUR

Prison island is also known as Changuu Island. The name "prison island" came after this unique island used by some sultans of Zanzibar to detain the recalcitrant slaves; it is about a 25 to 30 minutes boat ride.

The island lies just off the Old Stone Town; it was meant to be a prison to discipline the cruel slaves. However, before that, it turned out to be a quarantine from severe ailments for the East African traders and sailors before the giant tortoise was introduced, which were brought from Seychelles as a reward to the Zanzibar state. It takes a considerable interest to visitors to the island now. They are giant and friendly land tortoises to welcome you and take pictures as you would like.

This day tour will be the best for snorkelling lovers and beach relaxers; however, there is a lot to discover, including historical sites and giant tortoises.
